Parking Hike

Richmond Council have recently announced proposals for raising Permit Parking Charges with the new rates to be based on CO2 emissions of the car you drive. But this is just an attempt to collect more taxes from motorists and will have no perceptible impact on pollution levels. See overleaf for how to support our campaign against this proposal.

The proposed change to Permit Parking Charges based on CO2 emissions is simply a way to raise more taxes from local residents in our view. You could be paying several hundreds of pounds a year extra for no benefit. And it will affect almost everyone who has to buy a parking permit, not just those who own "gas guzzlers". But it will have a negligible impact on overall CO2 levels in Richmond – probably a small fraction of 1% - even if everyone changes their car to a lower emission vehicle which is unlikely. In practice it might even make matters worse.

The Association of British Drivers represents the interests of car users, and we object strongly to this latest attack on ordinary motorists. Car users already pay higher taxes than almost any other segment of the population, and this is just another assault on your rights.

Although many London residents have concerns about atmospheric pollution in London, this is not the way to solve the problem. London boroughs such as Richmond see motorists as a "soft touch" who can be targeted for higher taxes when we already pay more than our fair share and contribute much more in taxes than we get back in return. Please support our campaign to stop this proposal now!
